RE: The American Millennium Project and Caddo Schools

To Whom It May Concern:

I met Mr. Chris Chandler quite by accident at a local café. He recognized me as his former high school principal. I was very happy to see a former student.

I will always believe that knowledge will forever be the most important thing a person can obtain. Therefore the theme of Caddo Magnet High School was, and still is, Excellence in Education.

I believe that the American Millennium Project imparts knowledge to every individual, especially our young people. It is only in knowing our past, that we can prepare for our future.

I am convinced that if given the proper support, the American Millennium Project offers unlimited opportunities to our community and its students. Please join me in supporting this worthy education initiative. Feel free to contact me at (318)869-4343 should you have any questions.

Sincerely,
